Welcome

Thanks to you and other local partners for supporting Skills Development Scotland in our work.

Youth employment is an important shared objective and we are fully committed to working in partnership with you to create opportunities for all and ensure that our young people move into, and sustain, positive destinations.

Already, together we have made significant strides in contributing to the local 'skills pipeline' for Dumfries and Galloway. Our input to the pipeline is focused on ensuring that the resources of a range of organisations are joined up so that young people are fully supported in their transition from full time education into training, learning or employment.

Youth employment will continue to feature strongly through our next local Service Delivery Agreement (SDA) and we'll soon be scheduling time for another workshop, using feedback gained from a recent review of the SDA process to further develop appropriate content for our next agreement.

This Briefing brings to life our work in support of young people as part of our commitment to the many activities and services aimed at driving improvements in skills development for all people in Scotland.

In the meantime, here are some highlights from our recent activity...

- SDS and Dumfries and Galloway Council staff, along with Dumfries and Galloway College, have worked closely to design and implement activity agreements for young people who are at the very edges of employability.
- We have contributed to the Complementary Jobs Fund to enable 22 young people from across Dumfries and Galloway to successfully progress from training programmes into subsidised jobs funded by Dumfries and Galloway Council.
- SDS, Dumfries Jobcentre Plus and Dumfries and Galloway Council Employability and Skills Team are collaborating to combine resources and expertise to provide support and assistance to 18 year old benefit claimants in accessing work and training opportunities.

re:thinking a career in finance

The recent launch of re:think builds on the resources available in My World of Work, and provides a website where people can learn about working in the financial services industry in Scotland.

As with My World of Work, we are keen to reflect and respond to the complexities and variety of today's labour market and this new site brings to life what it's like to work in financial services and demonstrates what financial services businesses are looking for in new recruits. It will be a key resource for young people, providing insight into the wide variety of roles, encouraging them to consider a career in financial services and helping them identify and develop the skills needed for a career in the industry.

"Investment in Modern Apprenticeships can help businesses build more capable, efficient and loyal workforces."

Case study: Easterbrook Hall

Apprentices can help to shape a company's future, according to Dumfries wedding and conference venue manager Angela McIntyre.

She should know, after all – as she completed her own management level Modern Apprenticeship two years ago.

Angela, 43, who runs Easterbrook Hall at The Crichton in Dumfries, said: "It was a big challenge undertaking a Level 5 Business Management Modern Apprenticeship. But it has made a massive difference to my performance at work and also increased my confidence.

"I developed a more strategic approach to my day to day job running the venue and a greater focus on the future of the business and how to move it forward.

"We are continuing to grow and expand Easterbrook Hall but to be able to do that, we need skilled, forward-thinking staff who share our vision for the future. Modern Apprenticeships help us do that."

Angela is now supporting two of her managers through Modern Apprenticeships, with another two having already completed the Level 4 Business Management Modern Apprenticeship.

Modern Apprenticeships

With Scottish Government's commitment to the largest ever number of Modern Apprenticeship (MA) places (25,000 new places in 2011/12), we led on Scotland's first ever Apprenticeship Week from 5-9 September, highlighting to employers the real difference that apprentices can make to businesses.

In today's increasingly challenging climate, we are encouraging employers to invest in the future of our young people and to realise the business benefits of taking on a Modern Apprentice.

Modern Apprenticeships offer the individual employment as well as work-based learning with the obvious benefit to employers of having a skilled member of staff. SDS supports the delivery of Modern Apprenticeships by making a significant financial contribution to this type of training.

During the inaugural week, we worked with partners to showcase Modern Apprenticeships through events, news articles and partner activity which highlighted how MAs are contributing to business success. This included a visit by Michael Russell, the Cabinet Secretary for Education and Lifelong Learning, to congratulate Zoey Rennie on completing a Modern Apprenticeship in joinery and embarking on a career with Moray Council.

To find out more about Modern Apprenticeships visit www.skillsdevelopmentscotland.co.uk/employer or call 0800 783 6000.

2. Joinery apprentice Zoey Rennie, Cabinet Secretary Michael Russell, Skills Development Scotland Operations Director Danny Logue, joinery apprentice Garry George, Moray Council Chair of Communities and Young People's Services Committees Eric McGillivray and joinery apprentice Craig Sim.

Local Training Opportunities

Our joint approach with Community Planning Partnerships/ Local Employability Partnerships in contracting for Local Training Opportunities in 2012/13 includes two pre-employment programmes for individuals who need an extra bit of help getting ready for the workplace.

Get Ready for Work helps young people to develop essential employability skills and Training for Work provides vocational skills to help unemployed people aged 18+ to better meet the current needs of industry.

Employers who are interested in supporting these programmes should get in touch with their local SDS contact Helen Allison on helen.allison@sds.co.uk. Individuals should get in touch with their local SDS careers centre or job centre.

Employer Recruitment Incentive

SDS is managing the Scottish Government Employer Recruitment Incentive as part of our package of support for business, offering an incentive of up to £2,000 to employers who can take on someone as an employee or Modern Apprentice.

Businesses can access the money when they employ individuals who have gone through one of SDS's pre-employment programmes, Get Ready for Work and Training for Work, or have experienced some barriers to work in the past.

To find out more about the Employer Recruitment Incentive visit www.sds.co.uk/eri or call 0800 783 6000.
