Welcome

Thanks to you and other local partners for supporting Skills Development Scotland in our work.

Youth employment is an important shared objective and we are fully committed to working in partnership with you to create opportunities for all and ensure that our young people move into, and sustain, positive destinations.

Already, together we have made significant strides in contributing to the local 'skills pipeline' for East Renfrewshire. Our input to the pipeline is focused on ensuring that the resources of a range of organisations are joined up so that young people are fully supported in their transition from full time education into training, learning or employment.

Youth employment will continue to feature strongly through our next local Service Delivery Agreement (SDA) and we'll soon be scheduling time for another workshop, using feedback gained from a recent review of the SDA process to further develop appropriate content for our next agreement.

This Briefing brings to life our work in support of young people as part of our commitment to the many activities and services aimed at driving improvements in skills development for all people in Scotland.

In the meantime, here are some highlights from our recent activity...

- We are working with partners to develop a strategy for the European Social Fund Priority 5 Renfrewshire Employability Partnership Project (REPP), which has a focus on supporting unemployed 16-24 year olds across East Renfrewshire and Renfrewshire.
- SDS is working closely with each of the secondary schools in East Renfrewshire to help support more vulnerable pupils, including those who qualify for activity agreements, into a suitable positive outcome when they leave school.
- We have been working in partnership with staff in WorkER, Reid Kerr College and Adult Learning to offer focused vocational workshops to unemployed clients in East Renfrewshire to enable them to compete more effectively for vacancies with Waitrose, Wholefoods and Whitbreads.

If you have any questions or suggestions, please do get in touch.

re:thinking a career in finance

The recent launch of re:think builds on the resources available in My World of Work, and provides a website where people can learn about working in the financial services industry in Scotland.

As with My World of Work, we are keen to reflect and respond to the complexities and variety of today's labour market and this new site brings to life what it's like to work in financial services and demonstrates what financial services businesses are looking for in new recruits. It will be a key resource for young people, providing insight into the wide variety of roles, encouraging them to consider a career in financial services and helping them identify and develop the skills needed for a career in the industry.

Case study: W G Renfrew

A Barrhead steel and structural engineering company believes young apprentices will be a vital part of its future plans to expand.

Director Iain Lewandowski of W G Renfrew explained: "We wanted to continue the proud tradition the company has of recruiting and developing local people.

"Investing the time and patience in apprentices can pay dividends in the future. It means we will have properly trained, capable staff we can trust."

The company's first two apprentices – Chris Baird and Scott Ferguson – were selected from a group of eight trainees on placement with W G Renfrew through East Renfrewshire Council's Get Ready for Work programme which is delivered in partnership with Skills Development Scotland. As a result, both attracted an Employer Recruitment Incentive for the firm.

Scott Ferguson, 18, from Pollok, said: "The apprenticeship is really helping me. It's been good getting to do the job while you're learning at the same time."

Modern Apprenticeships

With Scottish Government's commitment to the largest ever number of Modern Apprenticeship (MA) places (25,000 new places in 2011/12), we led on Scotland's first ever Apprenticeship Week from 5-9 September, highlighting to employers the real difference that apprentices can make to businesses.

In today's increasingly challenging climate, we are encouraging employers to invest in the future of our young people and to realise the business benefits of taking on a Modern Apprentice.

Modern Apprenticeships offer the individual employment as well as work-based learning with the obvious benefit to employers of having a skilled member of staff. SDS supports the delivery of Modern Apprenticeships by making a significant financial contribution to this type of training.

During the inaugural week, we worked with partners to showcase Modern Apprenticeships through events, news articles and partner activity which highlighted how MAs are contributing to business success. This included a visit by Michael Russell, the Cabinet Secretary for Education and Lifelong Learning, to congratulate Zoey Rennie on completing a Modern Apprenticeship in joinery and embarking on a career with Moray Council.

Local Training Opportunities

Our joint approach with Community Planning Partnerships/ Local Employability Partnerships in contracting for Local Training Opportunities in 2012/13 includes two pre-employment programmes for individuals who need an extra bit of help getting ready for the workplace.

Get Ready for Work helps young people to develop essential employability skills and Training for Work provides vocational skills to help unemployed people aged 18+ to better meet the current needs of industry.

Employers who are interested in supporting these programmes should get in touch with their local SDS contact Jim Gallacher on jim.gallacher@sds.co.uk. Individuals should get in touch with their local SDS careers centre or job centre.
