Introduction

This Quality Assurance and Improvement Framework document (hereinafter referred to as 'the Framework') sets out Skills Development Scotland's (SDS) quality assurance and improvement arrangements to enhance delivery, which are effective from 1 April 2021. The Framework applies to all Learning Providers (hereinafter referred to as 'Providers') directly contracted to deliver SDS funded work-based learning programmes; Modern Apprenticeships; Foundation Apprenticeships and Employability Fund. Sub-contracted provision that is part of the direct contract holder's responsibility will also be reviewed.

The arrangements described in the document, detail:

- the principles and purpose of the Framework;
- the quality standards and indicators used to assess Providers;
- our approach to formal quality review; and
- our approach to ongoing monitoring of Providers' quality assurance and continuous improvement activity.

Appendices 1 and 2 provide details and an overview the Framework.

Principles and purpose of the Framework

The Framework is designed to demonstrate how well Providers support apprentices and learners in relation to SDS funded provision by ensuring they:

- receive appropriate support and guidance to enable them to become successful learners and confident individuals;
- receive quality training and develop their skills to achieve their learning goals;
- are treated with dignity and respect in a way that promotes equality and inclusion; and
- work towards successful outcomes, leading to future employment or further appropriate career progression in:
 - employment;
 - Further/Higher Education; or
 - other learning pathways.

The Framework considers the extent to which employers' skills needs are met by:

- ensuring Providers take account of employer and wider industry needs when offering training and development options; and
- encouraging Providers to continuously enhance and improve, enabling them to offer more flexible and relevant training tailored to individual employers' needs.

The Framework is designed to support and enable Providers to demonstrate how well they design, deliver, evaluate and improve their services using the principle of self-assessment to:

- evaluate the quality of provision and services and assess the results and impact of delivery for learners, employers and other key stakeholders;
- identify what aspects of delivery is working well and what needs to improve, by answering the key questions and covering the themes identified in the self-assessment guidance;
- develop a quality action plan (QAP) so that it is focussed on the delivery areas identified as high priority for improvement, and, which will deliver a meaningful impact; and
- understand the key processes and timescales that must be followed to ensure compliance with SDS' contract requirements.

The Framework is built on three high level Standards:

- Service Delivery (Work Based Learning);
- Leadership and Quality Culture; and
- Outcomes and Impact.

The importance of self-assessment to support continuous improvement

The Framework promotes the use of self-assessment as a business tool which you should use on an ongoing basis to review and identify improvements to your organisation's delivery of apprenticeships and employability activity. You are required by SDS to complete at least one self-assessment by the end of April each year to demonstrate your commitment to maintaining high standards of delivery and continuous improvement of SDS funded provision.

Self-assessment should be an evidence based collaborative approach to evaluate how well you are delivering your SDS funded services. To get the most value from the process you should involve a representative sample of your staff and external stakeholders who contribute to the learning experience. Typically, self-assessment should include input and feedback from learners, employers, sub-contractors delivering on your behalf, and any other delivery partners.

The starting point for your self-assessment is to read through the guidance, which you can access via the link in the yellow text box, so that you and your staff are clear on the key questions and themes that need to be considered. It is essential that you keep referring to the guidance and exemplars as you go through the self-assessment process to make sure you are covering all of SDS' requirements - i.e. addressing all of the themes within each key question.

Your Self-Assessment should record your results for each Quality Indicator, Key Question and Theme detailing:

- a full but concise description of what you do;
- your collaborative opinion on how well you are doing each activity, based on reflection on the evidence of your performance, and providing the evidence and results that support this opinion; and
- your collaborative opinion on what and where you need to improve, providing the evidence you have gathered to support this.

Use the Red, Amber or Green criteria to decide which are the most important areas for improvement to take forward into your QAP.

TIP: Remember to use the Quality Assurance and Improvement Framework Self-Assessment Guidance 2021-22 for your programme

Your quality action plan (QAP) and how it will be used by SDS to monitor progress

Your QAP is a key management tool which you should use to capture SMART¹ actions to support successful implementation of the improvement areas you have prioritised in your self-assessment.

It is good practice to review and update your QAP on a regular basis, involving your managers and staff in the review process

Your QAP demonstrates to SDS that you are committed to continuous improvement and the actions you are implementing are having the desired effect. SDS staff may ask you for updates and evidence to show how well you are progressing with improvement actions identified in your QAP. It is important therefore that the QAP is used as a working document to reflect progress and your current position.

To meet SDS contract requirements it is mandatory that your QAP should have at least one equality related action.

Key Information

Submission of your SA/QAP

SDS now use a cloud-based web platform called insightQ to complete the SA/QAP process. Providers are required to update the system by 30 April 2021 and SDS will automatically be alerted by email when this has been completed.

Your SA/QAP will then be reviewed by your Quality Assessor and you will be informed within three weeks if it is acceptable. If there are any gaps, or if information you have provided is not clear, you are likely to be asked to revise and update. Your Quality Assessor will advise you on what specific action is needed and can offer additional support if required.

Your QAP will be monitored throughout the year by SDS staff and you may be asked to update it at any time to reflect progress made.

SDS approach to quality review

In 2021-2022 SDS will utilise two methods of formal quality assurance review – full and thematic.

SDS are not responsible for completing formal quality assurance reviews of apprenticeship delivery for college contracts. This is undertaken by Education Scotland within scope of the How Good Is Our College? arrangements. Provider types in scope for an SDS review are independent training providers, councils, employer providers and third sector organisations.

Full reviews

A full review focusses on the entire Framework, covering all Standards, Indicators and Themes in relation to all of your SDS contracted provision (MA and/or FA and/or EF). The main output of a full review is a graded evaluative report which will be published on the SDS website.

SDS will prioritise full quality review activity using a risk-based approach in relation to several factors including previous performance, internal and external intelligence.

You will be advised at the start of each financial year whether your organisation will be scheduled for a full quality review, and a visit date will be agreed. You should be aware that we may plan a full review visit for your organisation at any time should there be concerns about the quality of your provision.

Thematic reviews

SDS may also undertake thematic reviews which will typically be shorter research-based reviews which are not graded. Typically, these aim to gain insight into either a specific theme within our Framework or a more general theme relating to work-based learning.

Further details on our approach to thematic reviews is contained in Appendix 3

Covid-19

Due to the impact of Covid-19, all formal quality assurance visits whether full or thematic may be conducted face to face on your premises, remotely by Microsoft Teams, or a hybrid of both depending on the circumstances at the time.

Planning for a full quality review

The Quality Assessor's pre-visit planning will involve gathering information from a range of sources, and analysis of that information, to decide the areas of focus for the visit, including the number of interviews and observations to be undertaken. Information will include, but will not be restricted to:

- your current self-assessment and the underlying evidence that informed this, including notes of meetings, analysis of surveys etc;
- your QAP, including any plans for sub-contractors;
- performance data for the previous three years, where available, including: achievement rates; equalities data; destination data and employment rates;
- findings from SDS quality monitoring and compliance activities, including feedback gathered from learners and employers;

- reports from any previous quality review visits carried out by SDS or any other quality body that has reviewed SDS funded provision;
- reports from any Education Scotland thematic reviews in which your organisation has been involved;
- any legal letters issued by SDS where your organisation is placed on a formal improvement plan; and
- additional background information about the local economic and labour market context relevant to your organisation.

In addition, due to the introduction of insightQ, you will have the ability to upload documents and other evidence within this portal which could be used as part of the formal review.

The lead Quality Assessor will liaise with your main contact to agree the agenda and programme for the visit. This will be agreed within a minimum of four weeks of the visit start date. You will be asked to arrange interviews and observations in advance so that the review team have maximum opportunity to assess the quality of delivery during the visit. You may also be asked to set up some telephone interviews for our assessors and to upload evidence in advance of the visit using insightQ, or to have the information available on the first day of the visit.

How long will the visit take?

The duration of the quality review visit will normally be between two and five days. The number of days and the size of the review team will vary but will be proportionate to the scale of your organisation's SDS contract and will be informed by information gathered at the planning stage.

The Quality Review Team

A full quality review will be undertaken by a quality review team. The size of the team will be proportionate to the size and scale of your SDS contract, taking into account:

- geographical coverage of delivery;
- number of sites used in delivery;
- type of provision delivered;
- number of sub-contractors; and
- the age profile of learners.

The quality review team will be drawn from SDS staff who have experience in managing Provider contracts and monitoring quality of training. The lead Quality Assessor will work with the team to plan and conduct the visit programme and will allocate roles and responsibilities across the team.

The lead Quality Assessor will be the main point of contact for Providers before, during and after the review visit.

What will happen during the full quality review?

On the first day of the visit the lead Quality Assessor, and members of the review team, will meet with your main contact to go over the schedule for the visit and agree any changes if necessary.

Domestic and logistical details will be agreed before the team start the programme of interviews, meetings and observations. If possible, we will ask you to provide a room for the review team to use while on your premises.

The lead Quality Assessor will have regular touch points with your main contact so that everyone is kept informed about the progress of the visit and to agree any further actions. Usually this will be a quick meeting or telephone call at the beginning and end of each day.

On the final day, the lead Quality Assessor will provide verbal feedback to give you a summary of the main visit findings. The meeting may include some of the review team, depending on logistics. You will be advised of the main strengths and areas for improvement identified during the review and of any immediate/priority actions that need to be addressed should any evidence deem to be not meeting the minimum quality standards for any of the criteria. You will not be given your quality of delivery score or grade at this meeting. The lead Quality Assessor will gather all the evidence from the review and will work with the review team afterwards to calculate your quality of delivery score and overall grade.

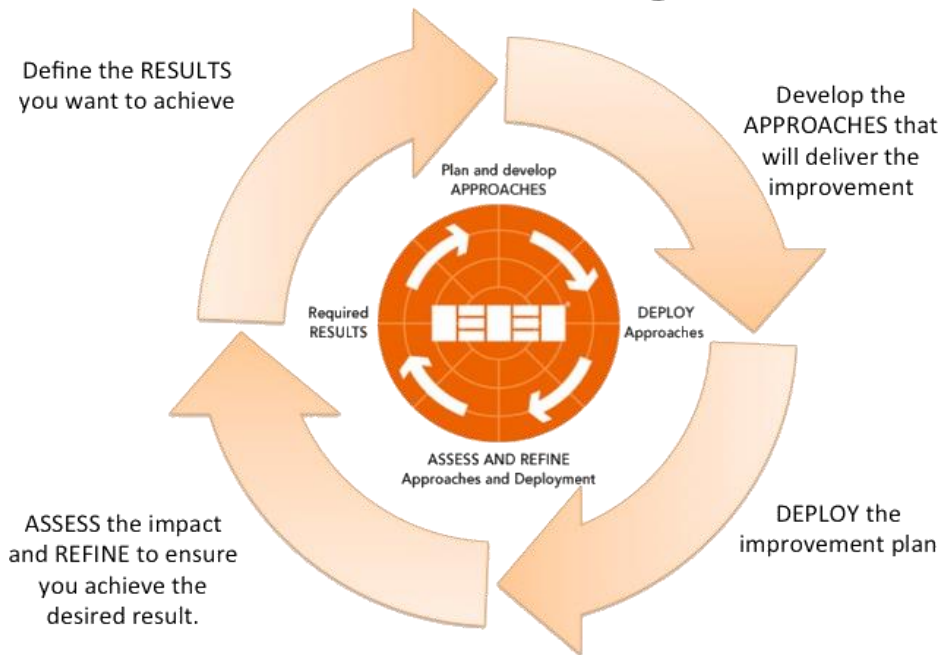

How we score and grade your full quality review

Findings from the review will be collated by the lead Quality Assessor and used to inform the scores allocated against each Quality Standard using EFQM RADAR² methodology – (see diagram on next page).

An overall score and grade is awarded that represents the quality of training delivery at the time of the formal quality review. This will be subject to discussion and agreement by the assessment team after which the lead Quality Assessor will prepare a written report for issue.

The RADAR Logic

The score is based on our assessment of the evidence for the twelve quality indicators against the three Quality Standards, which is weighted as follows:

Quality Standard	Score Weighting
Service Delivery (Work Based Learning)	40%
Leadership and Quality Culture	20%
Outcomes and Impact	40%

Your overall score is converted to a grade. There are six grades which are detailed in Appendix 4.

SDS uses standardisation of practice and a moderation process which ensures our scoring process is being applied fairly and consistently.

Equality and diversity performance

In addition to your overall score and grade, you will be given a Red, Amber or Green Rating to indicate your progress in supporting SDS' Equality and Diversity action plan targets. This RAG rating is intended to highlight the extent to which you need to take action to effect improvement in performance.

What happens after the full quality review?

You will be sent a draft of the report to check for factual accuracy within four weeks of the formal quality review visit. You must reply to us with any factual inaccuracies highlighted and give reasons why it is inaccurate, within five working days of receipt of the draft. Your score and grade will not be changed.

The report will reflect the verbal feedback you were given at the end of the review visit and will provide more detailed findings in relation to the strengths, effective practice, feedback gathered and areas for improvement or enhancement against each Quality Standard.

The final report will be issued following any amendments based on the accuracy check. You will normally receive the final report within four to six weeks of the visit completion date.

You will be expected to use the report to inform your QAP any required changes to your QAP in insightQ, reflecting any recommendations and areas for improvement that have been identified. If there are any high priority actions required, for example, as a result of a breach of your SDS contract conditions, then you will be expected to take immediate action to resolve the issue.

If you fail to achieve a grade of at least satisfactory during a formal quality assurance review we will require you to take immediate action to address weaknesses in the quality of your delivery. This will mean adding appropriate Area for Improvement (AFIs) to your quality action plan which will be discussed with your QA and monitored by SDS on an ongoing basis.

You should update insightQ within two weeks of receiving your final visit report and your SDS Quality Assessor with review the updates.

We also recommend you include any quality related actions arising from areas for improvement identified through monitoring activity undertaken by SDS Skills Investment Advisers or Education Scotland thematic reviews.

SDS staff will liaise with you on an ongoing basis to discuss what progress you have made on your planned actions. This may include a review of progress of any areas added to the plan following any further quality monitoring visits by SDS, or from Education Scotland or other external reviews, if relevant.

Appendix 5 provides an overview of the visit cycle, and Appendix 6 summarises the Key Principles for Assessment visits, including our Code of Conduct for SDS staff, and our expectations of providers during quality reviews.

A full Glossary of Terms is included in Appendix 7.

The full quality review report and publication

Your report will be published on the SDS website in line with our timetable for publishing national Q4 statistics, usually in June each year.

Concerns

If concerns arise during a formal quality review visit, they should be raised with the lead Quality Assessor as soon as possible to resolve issues before the review is completed.

If you believe that the quality review team has arrived at a judgement in the absence of all relevant information or evidence, you should submit any additional evidence in writing within five working days of the verbal feedback given by the lead Quality Assessor. If the matter is not resolved to your satisfaction it should be raised with the NTP Quality Assurance Team Leader who will seek to resolve the issue.

Complaints

If it is not possible to resolve concerns, you may wish to lodge a formal complaint. The lead Quality Assessor will ensure that you are informed of SDS' procedures for making a formal complaint, however information about how to complain is available on the SDS website³.

Support from SDS

SDS Quality Assessors will work with you as required:

- to offer guidance on the Quality Standards and Framework;
- to provide advice and guidance on how to complete your self-assessment and QAP on insightQ;
- to provide advice on the types of evidence required to support your self-assessment and how to upload these into insightQ; and
- to help identify areas for improvement and offer guidance on what can be done to develop improvement actions to meet quality standards.

Education Scotland - External Quality Review of Modern Apprenticeships

SDS also work in partnership with Education Scotland to deliver externally managed quality reviews. These are led by Her Majesty's Inspectors with support from a team of Associate Assessors which include staff from SDS, independent training Providers and colleges. These reviews are thematically based on Modern Apprenticeship industry sectors and may involve a number of SDS Providers who deliver in that sector. Education Scotland identify the Providers involved in these reviews using SDS data and information. You will be contacted by SDS if you are selected for inclusion in any of the Education Scotland thematic reviews. The latest version of Education Scotland's arrangements for external quality review of MAs can be accessed from the link below.

Appendix 3 – Thematic Reviews

Outline of the Thematic Review Process

Throughout the year SDS may carry out thematic review(s). These could focus on a specific theme within the SDS Quality Assurance and Improvement Framework or may be of a more generic nature contributing to the Framework e.g. the impact of progress reviews on the apprentice journey.

Selection of Providers

We would identify a suitable sample of Providers to be part of a thematic review, based on a number of factors and considering the scope of the review.

We would inform you of your involvement in a thematic review at least two calendar months before it commences.

The QA will liaise with your main contact to agree the agenda and programme for the visit/event. This will be agreed within a minimum of four weeks of the visit start date. You will be asked to arrange the interviews and observations in advance, so that there is maximum opportunity to assess the quality of activity during the visit.

How will the thematic review take place?

Thematic reviews will be carried out either face-to-face in your premises and/or remotely by video conference using Microsoft Teams, or a combination of both. Remote reviews will be fully planned and hosted by the QA carrying out the event.

How long will the review take?

The duration of the review visit will normally be one day and there will be one QA involved. The QA will be the main point of contact for Providers before, during and after the review visit.

What will happen during the thematic review?

On the day of the review the QA will speak with the main contact within the Provider to go over the schedule of activity for the visit/event and agree any changes if necessary.

The QA will then carry out the interviews either face to face or by phone with provider staff, apprentices and employers. Observations may be carried out as part of the review either face to face or on Microsoft Teams where appropriate.

At the end of the day the QA will provide verbal feedback to give a summary of the main findings. You will be advised of the main strengths and areas for improvement identified and of any immediate/priority actions that need to be addressed.

Thematic review Provider report

You will be sent a short report (1-2 pages) within four weeks of the review visit. The report will reflect the verbal feedback you were given at the end of the review and will provide more detailed findings in relation to the strengths, effective practice and any areas for improvement or enhancement required. This report will not be published by SDS.

Where we have made recommendations for improvement relating to the thematic review, we will suggest that you include this in your Quality Action Plan. If there are any high priority actions required, for example, as a result of a breach of your SDS contract conditions, then you will be expected to take immediate action to resolve the issue.

Thematic review national report

At the end of the review activity and when all Provider reports have been issued, a national report will be published on the SDS website highlighting key strengths and areas for improvement. The report will also include effective practice and any case studies. Providers will not be named in this national report without express permission of the Provider.

Appendix 5 – Full Quality Review Timetable

Appendix 6 – Key Principles of Assessment Visits

Principles of Formal Quality Review

Assessors will:

- ensure that the quality review is of high quality and responsive to the needs of all learners;
- ensure that judgements are secure, reliable, valid and based on first-hand evidence;
- involve Providers fully in the quality review process;
- use the Provider's self-assessment as the starting point for the quality review to identify key areas for review, along with other intelligence gathered as part of the pre-visit planning arrangements;
- keep to a minimum any requirements for documentation and preparation by the Provider;
- gain the learners' perspective and that of employers and other stakeholders; and
- be constructive in identifying and supporting Providers with important areas for improvement.

Code of conduct for the Quality Review Team

Assessors should uphold the highest possible standards in their work. All assessors follow the EFQM approach. When conducting the quality review, assessors will:

- clearly identify themselves explaining their role and approach;
- carry out their work with integrity, courtesy and due sensitivity;
- evaluate the work of the provider objectively;
- report honestly, fairly and impartially;
- communicate clearly and openly;
- act in the best interests of learners and employers; and
- respect the confidentiality of all information received during their work.

It is important that assessors judge the effectiveness of provision and leadership on their contribution to outcomes and not based on any preferences for methods. The key to the judgement is whether the methods and organisation are fit to achieve high standards of work for all learners.

Expectations of Providers

To ensure that reviews are constructive and beneficial, it is important that assessors and Providers establish and maintain a professional working relationship based on mutual courtesy, respect and professional behaviour. Assessors are expected to uphold the SDS code of conduct, but we also expect Providers to:

- apply their own codes of conduct in their dealings with assessors;
- enable assessors to conduct their assessment in an open and honest way;
- enable assessors to evaluate provision objectively against the SDS Quality Assurance and Improvement Framework;
- provide evidence that will enable assessors to report honestly, fairly and reliably about their provision;
- maintain a purposeful dialogue with the lead assessor and the quality review team;
- recognise that assessors need to observe practice and talk to staff, learners and other stakeholders without the presence of a manager or a senior leader;
- draw any concerns about the quality review to the attention of assessors in a timely and suitable manner through the nominee or lead assessor;
- work with assessors to minimise disruption and stress throughout the quality review; and
- ensure the health and safety of assessors while on their premises.

At the point of the quality review notification, Providers should review the composition of the quality review team. It is the responsibility of Providers to highlight any perceived or actual conflicts of interest prior to the start of their quality review.
